

Gilbert Family of Pewsey Vale

This group includes records relating to several generations of the Gilbert family, together with families relating to the female line. Below is a brief outline of those families and how they are linked (highlighted names indicate that records by, or relating to, those individuals are held in the record group; highlighted and italicised place names link individuals to particular places).

Joseph Gilbert (1800-1881) arrived in South Australia in 1839, and took up land at Pewsey Vale, near Eden Valley. In 1848 he married Anna Browne (1812-1873), who had arrived with her brother (J.H. Browne) in 1840. The couple had four children – Jane (b.1848), later Lady Edward Stirling; William (b.1850), Sarah (b.1854) later Mrs Fergusson; and Anna (1856-1942). Wongalere, owned by the Browne siblings, was leased to Joseph's older brother William after his arrival in 1857.

Joseph's son William Gilbert (1850-1923) married Mary Young (Minnie or Min) Clindening (1854-1939) in 1879. [Mary Clindening was the daughter of William Clindening and Mary (nee Driffield) who had arrived in SA in 1853 – see PRG 712.] The young couple set up home at Wongalere. After the death of Joseph Gilbert, William and Minnie moved to Pewsey Vale. They had 11 children:

- Henry (1880-1947)
- Mary (b. and d. 1881)
- Anna Gertrude (b.1883 died in infancy)
- Joseph (1884-1915)
- Dorothy (Dolly) (1885-1973)
- William (Bill) (1887-1967)
- Marjory (1888-1985)
- Thomas (1889-1938)
- Catherine (1891-1931)
- Emily (Emmie) (1892-1974)
- John (Jack) Driffield (1893-1917)

William Gilbert (1887-1967) married Catherine Pauline Browne (1897-1984) in 1916. Known as Pauline, she was the daughter of Thomas Lansdowne Browne (1860-1931) and Catherine Campbell Crawford (1862-1936). Thomas was the son of John Harris Browne (1817-1904) [brother of Anna Browne] and Margaret Anne Frances Guilding. Catherine was the daughter of William James Crawford (d. 1896 aged 76) and Helen Jane Hayden (died 1890 aged 59 years). W.J. Crawford's parents were Hugh and Mary Crawford.

William and Pauline lived at Wongalere where they raised three children: Catherine Mary (b.1919), Pauline Margaret (b.1919) and William (Bill) (b.1924). Mary Gilbert (1919-) married James Rupert Magarey (known as Bob) in 1940.

There are also a number of photos and records for other family members and in-laws, and some by long term governesses Grace Maud Cohen / Cohn and Georgina Florence Molero.

Artefacts

88

ca.1890-1930. 30 cm. ORIGINALS WITHDRAWN.

Comprises:

1. lace panel, believed to have been used by Mary Gilbert on her wedding day, but which is also identified as 'an heirloom Limerick lace veil' by the Advertiser (Thursday 4 April, page 8). The News (Wednesday 3 April, page 6) states that the veil belonged to her great-grandmother (and presumably was worn at her wedding as well).
 2. lace panel, with two cupid figures in the centre. Almost certainly another wedding veil worn by one of the family at her wedding.
- Both veils appear to be machine made lace, sometimes referred to as 'Limerick' or 'Irish' lace, but more generically known as tambour work.]
- 3-10. eight lace-edged 'white hand made finger bowl doilies'. [These were in a box which obviously originally housed the doilies '9 finger bowl D'Oyleys painted on white silk by Miss Cohen / Wild flowers S. Australia painted at Pewsey Vale', five of which were later added to the album described in series 87; 'inside now are some white hand made finger bowl doilies ..'.]
- 11-19. nine handpainted silk doilies to go under finger bowls. These were housed in a box with the following in the bottom 'Painted by G. M. Boothby / The "May" Club. Adelaide'.
20. Silver and ivory pencil, ca.1880.
